Dear Mrs Roosevelt.

I do hope you will kindly forgive me for writing to you. But when I saw your photograph in the Daily Mirror & you look so very kind, I thought I would pluck up courage & write to you; I am very worried as you see I have several children & one daughter is married with 3 babies living a good distance away from here. now what I wanted to ask you is could you please lend me a little cash about £20 to enable my husband & myself to visit her; we have not been away for a holiday for 15 years, as with a growing family somehow we cant afford it. if only dear you would be so kind to us I'll pay it back as soon as I possibly can

Please help me & forgive

Yours. Respectfully

May. Williams

Dear Mrs Roosevelt.

Our desire was to get this letter to you for President Roosevelt's birth day, and the March of Dimes.

Its from my little Cousin Maxine Saffell, who made a record for you just before her fifth birthday. She was taken ill with measels and the letter was delayed.

She wants you to have this recording of "The Lords Prayer" in Memory of the President.

Our family want you to know how much we admire you and your family. You are always in our prayers.

I know the last of love ones. I read one of your articles when you recalled that Eliza Keats Young had sent you a verse. You expressed how this season of the Year lifts the spirit, it was written in the spring of 1945. I keep this article and read it over and over, it means so much to me.

When you play the record, please listen at the end, because she pauses for a moment before she tells you her name.

The Lord's Prayer on one side and Silent Night on the other.

Sincerely Yours
Mrs Mattie S. Williams
Maxine's Cousin.
