My dear Mr. Aareki:

I understand that the Nobel Peace Prize Committee is considering the American Friends Service Committee for the 1948 award.

I have long worked with the Friends and during the depression years in this country, much of what I was able to earn I gave to them to expend because I felt that their philosophy of helping people to help themselves and their diversified interests all over the world, made them an organization which all of us who have at heart the well-being of people all over the world, would be glad to support.

Therefore I want to add my word of recommendation and my hopes that the Committee will be considered favorably.

Very sincerely yours,

(Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt)

Mr. Wilhelm Aarak, who is a member of the Nobel Peace Prize Committee, wishes to have a few letters commending the American Friends Service Committee for the 1948 award. We have taken no initiative in this but are furnishing the data for him.

I have wondered whether you would care to write him a letter about this. It need not be long, but I am sure a note from you would be appreciated. His address is:
