Emigres*

Dear Madam,

Thank you Glad to hear well

I have the honour to send you herewith a copy of the Bulletin which this Association has published for use of institutions and individuals interested in the refugee problem. The Bulletin will endeavour to present the point of view of the refugees on matters concerned with their present and future well-being.

On the cover of the first issue of the Bulletin there is an extract of the speech you made in 1946 reprinted from the Christian Science Monitor, Boston. I think that no other statement could express more admirably the very essence of the refugee problem, namely that the refugees' potential value to society is being wasted by keeping them in the camps and thereby forcing them to lead a life of frustration and hopelessness - and this after long years of suffering which they have endured during the war.

I have taken therefore the liberty of using your words as a motto of the Bulletin and indeed of the whole of our activity; and I also intended in this way to render due homage to the noble and deeply humanitarian attitude you have taken on so many occasions in defence of the refugees' right to life, liberty and the pursuance of happiness.

To Her Excellency
Mrs. F. D. Roosevelt
342, Madison Square
New York 17, N.Y.
U.S.A.

May I be permitted to assure you once more of our very deep appreciation of your generous and invaluable initiative in pleading the refugees' case ?

In the hope that by quoting you in the Bulletin I have in no way acted against your wishes, I am,

with my profound respects

Sincerely yours

Zygmunt + Rusinek
