Dear Mrs. Roosevelt,

When I talked with you a few moments ago, I should have thought to ask you if you have any suggestions to make as to what I should do and how I should do it. There must be people whom you might feel that I should contact as soon as I arrive in London. I would appreciate receiving the names and addresses of any such people, especially the representatives of any foreign government.

Any other suggestions you would have would be, of course, not only very welcome, but also very valuable.

You might address me in care of the American Embassy in London and I shall call there for any mail.

Most sincerely yours,

Benson R. Frost
