Dear Mrs. Roosevelt:

I very much enjoyed our talk last evening, even though I couldn't persuade you to undertake the task which I had in mind. In view of its scope and the other things you are committed to do, I can't blame you. At any rate, it was awfully nice of you to give so much thought to my proposal and to discuss it with me so thoroughly, and I appreciate this very much. I also am much pleased by your promise to write a piece for FOREIGN AFFAIRS, perhaps next winter, dealing with the work of Committee Three. The right time for this article would seem to me to be whenever you reach a point in the elaboration of the International Bill of Rights which would make it a suitable peg on which to hang a discussion of it and of the other related activities.

With thanks again to you for having taken the time to see me, believe me, with warm regards,

Yours sincerely,

Hamilton Fish Armstrong
