I have a very, very strong suggestion about dealing with the Russians. My suggestion is that it is very, very, very, very difficult to deal with the Russians.

Their nature is such that they are very, very, very, very difficult to understand. They are very, very, very, very difficult to deal with. They are very, very, very, very difficult to understand.

conclusion - but still has much done the kind about communist techniques and mentality and how much one, I mean an average Harvard type man, can learn from her, will I mention me. I imagine you have seen your share of them.
or her to take from them their knowledge - not their suggestions.
Again I am mixing myself into politics.
This morning I wrote an outline of my life for which I have been asked by Sir Ralph Cilento, an Australian, who is the one responsible for the medical services at the U.N.
I wondered whether I could put your name down as a reference.
But as I have not asked you, I shall send the letter to you, for you to mail - if you approve. But as you have encouraged me to follow up this possibility, I hope that you will not mind.
I was unable to examine for myself how serious the whole project is. It would be a step which had to be considered from all sides before really going into it. It would mean giving up practice and hospital appointments and become dependent on a job.
I hope it is not too difficult to decipher this acc.

Affectionately yours
Great weather, great spirits, running too fast for life to catch you. It's so hot right now, it's hard to believe it's even summer. I'm glad it's over. It's a relief. I'm looking forward to some cooler weather.

are pleasant. I would like to see the number of people and the type of service contemplated.

Whether I can be interesting enough to be in its work all this by mail I have never doubt.

It seems that the N.Y. University Medical Group, who has a contract with the b.n.i., is willing to support me for his position.

I do not know if Robert Pender takes at the b.n.i.

I do hope he is with a number of a listener for you.

Justice Land has changed since that since you are no longer in it. My thoughts are with you very much.

...And I'm thinking of the Park tomorrow.

I am picturing Park Avenue and its trees,

the people with umbrellas present and their shoes,

the in front the Christmas trees, the sentiment of the children, the little less foot with under the turbo of rush and evolation.

I feel a little odd, having done nothing about design from any device. But this hope is one of the many privileges one enjoys when ill.

My warm love and devotion go with those others.

Dad's
t

New Year's Day. I had no idea there was any hope.

As we lived in the house, and our friends were all in the house, and their friends in the house.
