Dear Mrs. Roosevelt:

In Dr. Parran's absence from the city, your recent note has been referred to me, along with the two letters from Mrs. Theresa Kelly Jones which you forwarded. The problem that confronts Mrs. Jones is within the jurisdiction of the War Department and for that reason, I suggest that you may wish to call it to the attention of Major General Raymond W. Bliss, Surgeon General of the Army.

Although Dr. Parran or I should be happy to send the correspondence directly to General Bliss, perhaps you would prefer to refer it to him yourself.

Sincerely yours,

James A. Crabtree
Deputy Surgeon General

My dear Dr. Parran,

I am referring the enclosed two letters to you for your consideration as the writer asked me to do so.

I am,

With all good wishes,

Yours very sincerely,
