Dear Mrs. Roosevelt

I take the greatest pleasure in writing to you as I was and still am an ardent admirer of your late husband Franklin D., so much so that I wrote a song in his memory. I do believe it will be liked by the entire world if and when it is published.

This is my reason in writing to you.

I want to ask your permission to have this song set to music & published.

Enclosed you will find my song lyric
of which I solemnly believe you will like.

I will await your early reply.

Memory of our late President
Lyrics by Milt. Lenahan

"Franklin D."

Let's pay homage to the man,
who helped gain our liberty.
He was known through-out the country side.

His name is "Franklin D."

A man's man the nations pride who fought for sincerity.

and let's not forget the things
he did for charity.

O! What a man was "Franklin D."

He rich and poor he treated alike
Proving every man is free.

What would this country be like if we never had a man like he.

He gave his life, that we may live,
in peace and liberty.

Long may his memories wind
through-out eternity.

Let's remember the March of Dimes.
On his anniversary.

Give with pride around the countries sites.

Give most generously.

Long may you rest,
Mr. Franklin D."

"One Dream Forever"
Words by Milt Lenahan

There's one love to every heart
one spring to cherish
one song to keep apart
There's one smile, one tender kiss our lips foretold
