My dear Mrs. Roosevelt,

May I thank you for the splendid tribute you paid to my brother in your column last week. I can assure you it brought much satisfaction and solace to all the members of my family.

I doubt whether any brothers were closer than Irving and I, as we thought alike on almost every public issue. I still cannot realize that he has gone.

I hope that you are well, and that Edith and I will have the pleasure of seeing you soon.

With kind personal regards, in which Edith joins me, I am,

Yours very sincerely,

Herbert
