Texts of Addresses at Opening of United Nations Conference in San Francisco

President Truman

The United Nations "is a historic meeting of a new type and a new era. It is not a renewal of old habits, but a new beginning... It is not a renewal of the old them of the lesson of the Nation, but a renewal of the aspirations of the human heart... It is a clear message to the world that the United States stands for peace, for justice, for human rights, and for the right of all nations to live in freedom and dignity..."

United Nations

The United Nations "is an expression of the aspirations of the world... It is a recognition of the fact that the United Nations has been established to provide a more effective means of preventing war than any means yet provided by the United Nations. It is an expression of the desire of the world to live in peace and to live in freedom..."

Secretary Stettinius

United Nations

The United Nations "is not only a means of preventing war, but it is also a means of promoting the welfare of mankind... It is not only a means of preventing war, but it is also a means of promoting the welfare of mankind..."

Texts of Big Three Statements on Link

President Truman

United Nations

The United Nations "is not only a means of preventing war, but it is also a means of promoting the welfare of mankind... It is not only a means of preventing war, but it is also a means of promoting the welfare of mankind..."

Marshall

United Nations

The United Nations "is a means of promoting the welfare of mankind... It is not only a means of preventing war, but it is also a means of promoting the welfare of mankind..."

British

United Nations

The United Nations "is a means of promoting the welfare of mankind... It is not only a means of preventing war, but it is also a means of promoting the welfare of mankind..."

A Historic Meeting: Americans and Russians Join Forces

Texts of Big Three Statements on Link

President Truman

United Nations

The United Nations "is a means of promoting the welfare of mankind... It is not only a means of preventing war, but it is also a means of promoting the welfare of mankind..."

Marshall

United Nations

The United Nations "is a means of promoting the welfare of mankind... It is not only a means of preventing war, but it is also a means of promoting the welfare of mankind..."

British

United Nations

The United Nations "is a means of promoting the welfare of mankind... It is not only a means of preventing war, but it is also a means of promoting the welfare of mankind..."