Dear Mrs. Roosevelt,

I don't want you to feel bad because I am writing, but I can't keep thinking of him if he was here we wouldn't be in such a stew all over the world. All I hope is that He and God can stop all this same way. Helping me I pray, although I don't go to Church, if a lot of people could just understand what he did and what was on his mind but some are too dumb to realize.

I wish you could take his place or do all you can as he wanted us to home peace, but am glad he has no more grief, but he could guide us and save us. He did not give up the battle without trying, every one loved him and many children I hear speak his name of the Abundance of good he did.

I stip from a letter he wrote my boy at 13 when he put pins on back of the infantal parabolic pins. He's 19 now and getting married soon. He says that letter is precious (over)
'just one of my ideas'

In our world where all is dim let the Christmas lights gleam for Christmas this year for it means peace and speaks peace better than we can.
we must be bright and free from all our doing.
Keep our faith in America
as he would want our country too.
for Christmas.
I knew some one who was so good lets light the lights for him and we will know he's near. although all these people are sadly crying and labors are worn and heavy laden we know some one hears and we are all this toil and pain.
and I am very thankful his name is
and I am very thankful his name is not like on the air today. I think it is awful the way they condemn others.
Please dear one I'll pray for peace with the thought that there are 2 dear ones above to hear.

Louise Diederich
5/6 Roberts Lane
Bakersfield
Dear Mrs. Roosevelt:

A short time ago I was listening to a quiz program for children. The question was asked, Who is the Pres. of the U. S.? One little tot answered, "Roosevelt," and how I wish that were true.

Every day I think of you and I do hope you are not too lonely. I do miss your voice on the radio and your pictures in the New York Herald Tribune. I have always admired you for the kind of person you are and the many nice things you have done. I have always wished I could really meet you and know you.
Sawed so much to write you after your husband’s death. But didn’t, so I was thinking of you and praying for you.

I do hope you are well and have a very nice and happy Xmas.

Sincerely,

Mrs. Lillie M. Dillman
617 S. H. H. Street
Santa Fe, New Mexico
Dear Mrs. Roosevelt,

I don't want you to feel bad because I am writing but I can't keep thinking of him if he was here we wouldn't be in such a stew all over the world. All I hope is that He and God can stop all this some way. Believing me I pray although I don't go to Church if a lot of people could just understand what he did and what was on his mind but some are too dull to realize.

I wish you could take his place or do all you can as he wanted us to done peace but am glad he has no more grief but he could guide us and save us. He did not give up the battle without trying, every one loved him and many Children I hear speak his name of the Abundance of good he did.

I still have a letter he wrote my boy at 13 when he put pins on back of the infantal. Paradoxic pins. Yes 19 now and getting married soon. He says that letters is precious (over)
Just one of my Ideas.

In our world where all is dim, let the Christmas lights glimmer for Christmas this year, for it means peace and speaks peace better than we can. We must be bright and free from all our doings.

Keep our faith in America as he would want our country to for Christmas.

I knew someone who was so good let's light the lights for him and we will know he is near. Although all these people are sadly crying and labored so worn and heavy laden we know some one hears and we are all this trial and pain and I am very thankful his name is and I am very thankful his name is and I am very thankful his name is and I am very thankful his name is and I am very thankful his name is. Please dear one I'll pray for peace with the thoughts that there are 2 dear ones above to hear.

Louise Diederich
514 Roberts Lane
Bakersfield, Calif.
Dec. 22-46

Dear Mrs. Roosevelt:

A short time ago I was listening to a quiz program for children. The question was asked: Who is the Pres. of the U.S.? One little tot answered "Roosevelt," and how I wish that were true.

Every day I think of you and I do hope you are not too lonely. I do miss your voice on the radio and your pictures in the News Reel.

I have always admired you for the kind of person you are and the many nice things you have done. I have always wished I could really meet you and know you.
I wanted so much to write you after your husband's death. But didn't, but I was thinking of you and praying for you.

I do hope you are well and have a very nice and happy Christmas.

Sincerely,

Mrs. Laura M. Hillman
617 S. W.JAFFEE ST.
SOUTH BEND, INDI.