Dear Mrs. Roosevelt:

I was very happy to read in your column, "Helping the Hungry," of Saturday, June 8th, information regarding Cooperative for American Remittances to Europe, Inc., of which I am executive director, and which is thoroughly organized now in the United States and in eleven countries of Europe.

In almost all the countries of Europe we have large stockpiles of 10-in-1 packages which we have bought from the Army. I believe that we have the quickest way to translate money into food packages for the hungry in Europe. We have the food; we have it stored in Europe; and when we get an order for a package for an individual or group, we airmail the order, and the person over there is immediately informed; and we return receipt of the package to the buyer. All this does not cost the foreign government anything and it does not cost the taxpayer anything.

In spite of all this, and the great advantage of using CARE as against profit-making organizations which furnish less food for more money, we are having a great deal of difficulty in moving our sales. We must become better known to the public generally - as soon as that happens there will be a great demand for this quick, bargain food package delivery.

You may be interested to know that we have just concluded an agreement for the American Zone of Germany, and are negotiating with the British and French Zones, as well as the powers-that-be in Berlin.

Thanks again for your help,

Very truly yours,
