Dear Pat:

Never in my life have I been under such pressure as now--largely due to refugee problems and some extra university jobs--believe me if I content myself with saying that I was terribly glad to get your letter as I'm always greatly glad to hear from you, and I shall duly consider everything you say.

I saw Paul Anderson here about a week before his end. It was the only time I ever saw him, and yet I feel his loss as a very personal one.

Our love to Dode, yourself, and the kids, who must be all young gentlemen and young ladies by this time.

Ever yours,

dt

Hon. Gardner Jackson

I didn't know you were friends.
