From Deane for J C of Staff.

British Military Mission has been shown the contents your NR 826 dated 8th November. The authority given me in this message will be most helpful. While I am familiar with the schedule for air build up in the UK, I do not have the schedule buildup of U. S. Troops for Ground Echelons of Air Units, Service Troops, or Combat Divisions, except in general terms. Request that I be sent the planned buildup as now scheduled and from time to time a statement as to how the schedule is being carried out,

No. 1030, May 6, 1943

General Joseph Nijaz Middle East Commander of Polish Forces is 50, capable, energetic. At 28, commanded Austrian Division in last war. Safety Middle East is extremely vital, that time should not be lost but preparations made now for full and winter invasion of Europe from here. Urges formation of International Army in Middle East under American General. Sent cable to SIKORSKI urging direct appeal to our president. From SIKORSKI.

RAJAC says indications are Russians will muster 300 divisions against Germans. He is uncertain if that number can be equipped. Believes that Russian staff work and officers much inferior to Germans, that army will fall back to Volga River but will not be destroyed, will hold out next winter.

RAJAC likes British but says they have no leadership, are too slow for modern warfare.

General Scott visited Polish Camp. Well received.

They like his directness and aggressiveness.

Carpathian Brigade is splendid shape. Those returning from Russia need 6 weeks rehabilitation although if equipped can take field in 6 weeks. Only fittest survived Russian prisons and frightful treatment. Soldiers eager and determined despite experiences. Even British concede officers excellent in all grades. All ask for our equipment and instructors.
