Boston, MA - Tremont Temple
F. D. ROOSEVELT
FOR GENERAL TRAINING

Compilatory service and universal military training were strongly urged today by Franklin D. Roosevelt, assistant Secretary of the Navy, in an address at Trenton, N. J., under the auspices of the Special Aid society.
Mayor Curley, who introduced the speaker, prefaced his remarks by saying that city employees could go to Philadelphia or serve in the naval forces without loss of pay.

"We owe it to the government and our distinctive privilege as citizens of the United States to be forward in time of peace in the defense of our country," said Mr. Roosevelt. "This should be an examination of the pov-ty, a coming taken of all hands, men and women, so that we may determine where each one stands in the case of emergency and make our move in human life. So with this I view advocate compulsory service and universal training.

"We should follow the example of Switzerland and Australia, and especially what the latter country did in the war. In Australia, President Thibens believed in the naval forces and Mr.
Roosevelt said:

"New Zealand need to make the biggest out of active interest in this coast defense."
