FRENCH PREPARE ANOTHER ADVANCE

Flushed With Victories at Vaux and Dambloux Villages, Allies are Ready to Begin Another Attack Against Crown Prince—Verdun Front Relieved.

London, Nov. 6.—Their front in the Verdun now relieved of dangerous work and salients north and northeast of the villages, French armies are set for further advances against the front fortress by smashing victories at Vaux and Dambloux troops of the Crown Prince.

Advances north of the Somme likewise have made possible flanking operations against Bouchavesnes and Bichen. Expectation of such a movement is strong, since, if successful, it would strengthen the French front from Sailly to Peronne and give General Foch positions that would bear seriously on Peronne itself.

British victories on the Ancre bank have made German positions at Grand-court and Fys dangerous to hold much longer.

Politicians held aside his business and all potential extra today in favor of politics. The party leaders formed in sections of little whirlpools of conversation that they stepped on Marine street and the several streets on each side. "How are you today?" "Well, I think we will come out on top, but it won't be any walk-off."

Both Parties Confident.
But his remark excited opinion. Generally, both parties are confident that the ballot tomorrow will be in their favor. Life doesn't get in the least vibration of New York Herald's nation-wide vote in the satisfaction for their side. This has proved itself a most complete success of results in the past. The first figures began to appear in the morning. The first has been steadily put down by the party and yesterday's confidence in the Democratic candidate was the best and this in spite of the fact that "writing back" of the Republican strength. The D. P. adherents look for a victory when they are told that the party is strong. They are not at all sure of the party's strength. They are not at all sure of the party's strength. Mr. Platt's organ, the Eagle-News, refuses to print Mr. Cox's letter answering Platt's telegram accusing Mr. Cox of making misrepresentations about Platt. This letter was published in full in Saturday's Enterprise and it is a scathing attack on Mr. Platt's character and his record. The fact that Platt in the columns of his paper today makes a virulent and malicious personal attack upon Cox it would appear that Platt is ignorant of the most elementary rules of honor and fair play.
