

August 28, 1936

[Aberdeen, South Dakota]

FOR Speech File

INFORMAL EXTEMPORANEOUS REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT
AT ABERDEEN, SOUTH DAKOTA

August 28, 1936

I am mighty glad to come back into South Dakota and to be here with my old friend, Tom Berry. I was saying on the train before we came in that right here on the platform were three governors, Governor Berry, Governor Bulow and Governor Roosevelt. And Tom Berry said, "No, in South Dakota there is just one governor and that is I."

I have had a very interesting day. I have been out this way before a good many times, as you know.

You have a great problem before you. I have been doing a good deal of thinking about the future -- not just taking care of the immediate needs caused by the drought this year and of the needs of this coming Winter, for we are going to take care of that -- I have been thinking more about the future for I want to see South Dakota continue to grow and prosper.

I understand there are some people that are not in favor of planning ahead. I believe there are some people that say it isn't worth spending money to save money. Somebody said yesterday, up in North Dakota, that they believed if you could save ten million dollars by spending one million dollars it was worth while. In the same way, because this is an agricultural section of the country, it is absolutely necessary for you who

This is a transcript made by the White House stenographer from his shorthand notes taken at the time the speech was made. Underlining indicates words extemporaneously added to the previously prepared reading copy text. Words in parentheses are words that were omitted when the speech was delivered, though they appear in the previously prepared reading copy text.

I am mighty glad to come back into South Dakota and to be here with my old friends, Tom Derry. I was saying on the train before we came in that right here on the platform were three governors, Governor Derry, Governor Bolow and Governor Roosevelt. And Tom Derry said, "No, in South Dakota there is just one Governor and that is I."

I have had a very interesting day. I have been out this way before a good many times, as you know. You have a great people before you. I have been doing a good deal of thinking about the future -- not just taking care of the immediate needs caused by the drought this year and of the needs of this coming winter, for we are going to take care of that -- I have been thinking more about the future for I want to see South Dakota continue to grow and prosper.

I understand there are some people that are not in favor of spending ahead. I believe there are some people that say it isn't worth spending money to save money. Somebody said yesterday, up in North Dakota, that they believed if you could save ten million dollars by spending one million dollars it was worth while. In the same way, because this is an agricultural section of the country, it is absolutely necessary for you who live in the cities to realize that too, because there would not be any cities if there were not any farms.

While we are still young at this game, we are learning something more about it every year that goes by and we are getting excellent cooperation between the local government, the State government and the Federal government. Things are beginning to click pretty well and that is so because we believe we can win out in this fight.

In one way, I don't like to call it a fight because one of our troubles in the past has been that we have been fighting Nature. It is time for us now to cooperate with Nature.

I have come out here to learn more about the conditions at first hand and I shall take back to Washington with me the picture of a whole lot of people with courage, with their chins up, who are telling me that they are going to see it through. And I am going to help.

STATEMENTS FILE

Remarks by the President
at Aberdeen, S. D.,
August 28, 1936.

I am mighty glad to come back into South Dakota and to be here with my old friend, Tom Berry. I was saying on the train before we came in that right here on the platform were three governors, Governor Berry, Governor Bulow and Governor Roosevelt. And Tom Berry said, "No, in South Dakota there is just one governor and ~~that is I.~~" that is I."

I have had a very interesting day. I have been out this way before a good many times, as you know.

You have a great problem before you. I have been doing a good deal of thinking about the future -- not just taking care of the immediate needs caused by the drought this year and of the needs of this coming Winter, for we are going to take care of that -- I have been thinking more about the future for I want to see South Dakota continue to grow and prosper.

I understand there are some people that are not in favor of planning ahead. I believe there are some people that say it isn't worth spending money to save money. Somebody said yesterday, up in North Dakota, that they believed if you could save ten million dollars by spending one million dollars it was worth while. In the same way, because this is an agricultural section of the country, it is absolutely necessary for you who live in the cities to realize that too, because there would not be any cities if there were not any farms.

While we are still young at this game, we are learning something more about it every year that goes by and we are getting excellent cooperation between the local government, the State government and the Federal government. Things are beginning to click pretty well and that is so because we believe we can win out in this fight.

In one way, I don't like to call it a fight because one of our troubles in the past has been that we have been fighting Nature. It is time for us now to cooperate with Nature.

I have come out here to learn more about the conditions at first hand and I shall take back to Washington with me the picture of a whole lot of people with courage, with their chins up, who are telling me that they are going to see it through. And I am going to help.

Aberdeen, S.D.

8/8/36

11:30 AM.

2VI

(2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8)

9, 10, 11, 12, 13

14

STATEMENTS FILE

Shorthand By Kannee

VI. 1947-1948

28 10 - 1

7 11 19 - 10 11

V 10, 11, 12

1/2 - 1/3 - 1/4

2 2 2 2 2

2 2 2 2

1 1 2 2 2 2

4 1 1 1 1

1 1 1 1 1

1 1 1 1 1 1

1 1 1 1 1

1 1 1 1 1

① in Nov

in Nov

10/1/1954

10/1/1954

10/1/1954

10/1/1954

10/1/1954

10/1/1954

10/1/1954

10/1/1954

10/1/1954

10/1/1954

10/1/1954

10/1/1954

1-2
1-2

W. J. ...

Remarks by the President
at Aberdeen, S. D.,
August 28, 1936.

I am mighty glad to come back into South Dakota and to be here with my old friend, Tom Berry. I was saying on the train before we came in that right here on the platform were three governors, Governor Berry, Governor Bulow and Governor Roosevelt. And Tom Berry said, "No, in South Dakota there is just one governor and ~~that is I.~~ that is I."

I have had a very interesting day. I have been out this way before a good many times, as you know.

You have a great problem before you. I have been doing a good deal of thinking about the future -- not just taking care of the immediate needs caused by the drought this year and of the needs of this coming Winter, for we are going to take care of that -- I have been thinking more about the future for I want to see South Dakota continue to grow and prosper.

I understand there are some people that are not in favor of planning ahead. I believe there are some people that say it isn't worth spending money to save money. Somebody said yesterday, up in North Dakota, that they believed if you could save ten million dollars by spending one million dollars it was worth while. In the same way, because this is an agricultural section of the country, it is absolutely necessary for you who live in the cities to realize that too, because there would not be any cities if there were not any farms.

While we are still young at this game, we are learning something more about it every year that goes by and we are getting excellent cooperation between the local government, the State government and the Federal government. Things are beginning to click pretty well and that is so because we believe we can win out in this fight.

In one way, I don't like to call it a fight because one of our troubles in the past has been that we have been fighting Nature. It is time for us now to cooperate with Nature.

I have come out here to learn more about the conditions at first hand and I shall take back to Washington with me the picture of a whole lot of people with courage, with their chins up, who are telling me that they are going to see it through. And I am going to help.