INFORMAL EXTENporaneous REMARKS OF THE PRESIDENT TO CONFERENCE OF MAYORS
AT THE WHITE HOUSE, WASHINGTON, D. C.

November 16, 1936

You have a lot of problems and I am glad that Fiorello (Mayor LaGuardia) mentioned the fact that there is sympathy for them in the White House -- that there is understanding of all of your individual problems. I want to keep in touch with what you do.

I will know in an hour whether I push off for Buenos Aires tomorrow night or not. I think I am going.

I see the Mayor of San Francisco looking at me, but this ship strike on the West Coast could go on for a week. It might go on for two weeks, or longer.

As between this particular strike and whatever effect my visit to South America may have on the peace of the world, the peace of the world is the more important of the two.

I hope the ship owners and the men out on strike will recognize that fact and come together.

I think I can say that the Federal government will take care of its full share of the burden of relief after you and the Governors of the states have done everything you fully and reasonably can be expected to do in this connection.

If I leave tomorrow night I will be gone until
You have a lot of happiness and I am very glad Mpower (what I cannot mention) the fact that there in Spain that you can in the White House -- what price to unmistakable of all of your imagination leaps. I want you keep in touch with what you can go.
I will show you on your map what I built all for because when tomorrow night at 8, I think I am going.
I see the 8th of May (that was 59) and you are just the same article on the week went. Very costly it takes a week. It might be a lot two weeks or longer.
As between that particular article and newspaper status of Mr. to compete without what have on the basis of the policy of the giving to the more important of the Lord.
I hope you will enjoy and the next one on article will acknowledge that last and once prepared.
I think I can get that the federal government will save care of the half area of the country to matter when you see the governors of the states have gone everywhere until any necessity can be expected to go to this connection.
If I knew something which I will be done with about the fourteenth of December. In the meantime, I am working out the Federal budget for the fiscal year 1938 and if your Conference will keep in touch with the Director of the Budget, with Harry Hopkins, Secretary Ickes and the other Federal agencies, we should have things in such shape so that when I get back in December, we will have a clear picture of what the coming fiscal year will be.

It is fine to see you. I thank you all for coming to see me.
FOR THE PRESS

The following is an excerpt of the President's very informal greeting to the Conference of Mayors, the members of which called today to pay their respects:

"You have a lot of problems and I am glad that Fiorello (Mayor LaGuardia) mentioned the fact that there is sympathy for them in the White House — that there is understanding of all of your individual problems. I want to keep in touch with what you do.

"I will know in an hour whether I push off for Buenos Aires tomorrow night or not. I think I am going.

"I see the mayor of San Francisco looking at me, but this ship strike on the West Coast could go on for a week. It might go on for two weeks, or longer.

"As between this particular strike and whatever affect my visit to South America may have on the peace of the world, the peace of the world is the more important of the two.

"I hope the ship owners and the men out on strike will recognize that fact and come together.

"I think I can say that the Federal government will take care of its full share of the burden of relief after you and the Governors of the states have done everything you fully and reasonably can be expected to do in this connection.

"If I leave tomorrow night I will be gone until about the fourteenth of December. In the meantime, I am working out the Federal budget for the fiscal year 1936 and if your Conference will keep in touch with the Director of the Budget, with Harry Hopkins, Secretary Ickes and the other Federal agencies, we should have things in such shape so that when I get back in December, we will have a clear picture of what the coming fiscal year will be.
