

September 26, 1937

[West Yellowstone, Montana]

1078

FDR Speech File

President Roosevelt's Visit

INFORMAL, EXTEMPORANEOUS REMARKS OF THE PRESIDENT

West Yellowstone, Montana

September 26, 1937, 6:45 P.M.

We have had two wonderful days, Mrs. Roosevelt and I and Anna and John and the two children, and we want to come back, now that we know the way.

And I also have had a very good chance to talk with Superintendent Rogers about the future of the Park. Apparently our chief problem is not animals or trees or fish, but human beings.

I was very much interested today in seeing the figures which the Superintendent showed me. In 1929, which some of us think of as a boom year, there were 260,000 people who went through the Park. This year, which nobody claims is a boom year, there were 500,000.

So our chief problem in the future will be taking care of people, because people are going to come whether we like it or not and it is up to us to look after them. All of you good people who live near the Park are doing splendid work in your hospitality and the spirit of welcome that you are showing to people who come here from all over the United States. I hear about the wonderful times they have had from people who have come out to Yellowstone from where I live, up on the Hudson River in New York. They never fail to talk about their visit to Yellowstone.

That is why I say that we hope we will be able to come back again very soon. And now I am as hungry as one of those bears and I am going in to eat.

Franklin D. Roosevelt Library

This is a transcript made by the White House stenographer from his shorthand notes taken at the time the speech was made. Underlining indicates words extemporaneously added to the previously prepared reading copy text. Words in parentheses are words that were omitted when the speech was delivered, though they appear in the previously prepared reading copy text.

over all now-as fast
-long days since I came down it had been safe I can tell you yesterday that not to control all roads through
-which money can go, nothing less than a blockade
-Security Act gives us today sufficient time that we have to be once more prepared for possible emergency, and today we expect that our allies over 200,000 men ready, day, week or two to give orders, every need as far outside Western Europe, over 100, 000,000
to arm against all the world's evil at whatever latitude or sea or air will be nations men or cities or regions bound, single out among many over 100,000,000 people of us or of us or of us not yet organized into an international force our first and most vital and most effective of which are our own forces similar to those and other information our friends and I - United States and two or three other countries and ourselves of the same size who signed such had ever said that or that never would. Many who are now much and no one, even I -admirably of fully understand now some of this as well as that you I think at least
I have tried enough to see as you are as I was but - now you always see of us going on

(Signed) INFORMAL, EXTEMPORANEOUS REMARKS OF THE PRESIDENT

WEST YELLOWSTONE

September 26, 1937, 6:45 P.M.

We have had two wonderful days, Mrs. Roosevelt and I and Anna and John and the two children, and we want to come back, now that we know the way.

And I also have had a very good chance to talk with Supt. Rogers about the future of the Park. Apparently our chief problem is not animals or trees or fish, but human beings.

I was very much interested today in seeing the figures which the Supt. showed me. In 1929, which some of us think of as a boom year, there were 260,000 people who went through the Park. This year, which nobody claims is a boom year, there were 500,000.

So our chief problem in the future will be taking care of people, because people are going to come whether we like it or not and it is up to us to look after them. All of you good people who live near the Park are doing splendid work in your hospitality and the spirit of welcome that you are showing to people who come here from all over the United States. I hear about the wonderful times they have had from people who have come out to Yellowstone from where I live, up on the Hudson River in New York. They never fail to talk about their visit to Yellowstone.

That is why I say that we ~~will~~ hope we will be able to come back again very soon. And now I am as hungry as one of those bears and I am going in to eat.

STANDARD FORM NO. 14-A
Approved by the President
March 18, 1934

TELEGRAM

OFFICIAL BUSINESS—GOVERNMENT RATES

The White House
Washington

FROM

U. S. GOVERNMENT PERSONNEL OFFICE
181225A

1898 are
14 12
100-11.
no. 2450
① 1049
2 103 12
W 103 12
① 103 12
103 12
103 12
103 12
103 12
103 12
103 12

STANDARD FORM NO. 14A
APPROVED BY THE PRESIDENT
MARCH 16, 1936

TELEGRAM

OFFICIAL BUSINESS GOVERNMENT STATES

10

The Miller House

卷之三

STANDARD FORM NO. 14-A
APPROVED BY THE PRESIDENT
MARCH 15, 1935

TELEGRAM

OFFICIAL BUSINESS—GOVERNMENT RATES

From The White House
Washington

U. S. GOVERNMENT PRINTING OFFICE 121-1545

809 9/6 658
SAC-6 CDS-CG-V1
-SF-
