3. Bureau of Yards and Docks, the following contract has been made:

U.S.S. MAYRANT (DD402) is scheduled to hold final trials off Rockland, Maine, and heavy displacement standardization runs under the Board of Inspection and Survey, beginning 9 April and lasting about 5 days. About 13 April the MAYRANT will return to Boston for post trial examinations and completion of Navy Yard work in preparation to join U.S. Fleet. After test torpedo firings at Newport and 9 days at Navy Yard, Washington, MAYRANT will proceed about 18 May and report to CinC US for duty in destroyer battle force after reaching the Canal Zone.

U.S.S. SAN FRANCISCO, reported for duty in Cruiser Division 6, Scouting Force, on 24 March.

NOKOMIS (harbor tug), will depart Navy Yard, Charleston, 19 April for duty in the 14th Naval District, escorted by the VEGA (cargo ship) as far as San Diego where another vessel will be designated for further escort to Pearl Harbor.

U.S.S. MUSTIN (DD413), on completion of Navy Yard availability on 10 April and after test torpedo firings at Newport, will visit the Naval Academy in connection with session of Board of Visitors, 29 April, departing 3 May for San Diego via Norfolk, Guantanamo, and Canal Zone. Congressional Party, arrived Anacostia in the evening of 23 March.

Senate Military Affairs Committee, considered today a resolution by Senator La Follette calling for an investigation of allied purchases of new types of American made airplanes.

War at Sea, Great Britain, by torpedoing two German merchantmen close to the Danish coast, has started a new phase of its blockade in which warships will operate along the 3 mile line of neutral Scandinavian territorial waters, it was indicated. Germany's 2,189 ton EDMUND HUGO STINNES was added to the torpedoed HEDDERNHEIM (previously reported). The British lost the trawler LOCH ASSITER, sunk by a mine. It is the British view that Germany has violated international law by sinking neutral as well as allied ships without warning whenever opportunity offered. There is growing sentiment in Britain that the dictates of humanity alone should control her sinking of German ships, regardless of law. The Danish steamer BRITTA, 1,146 tons, has been sunk in the Atlantic, west of the Orkneys. It was the 7th Danish vessel sunk in the past week.

British Government reorganization, was emphasized again today by London newspapers which said such was imminent.

It seemed taken for granted that in any change Winston Churchill would be intrusted with more responsibility and that he might be put in charge of all three fighting services, Army, Navy, and Air Force. Chamberlain might also institute a small war inner cabinet to consider only big problems, it was said.
