To General Watson White House from Winant. x428/

Lord Trenchard who is Air Marshal and who is most responsible for building the RAF is a guest of General Arnold. No British airman has been more friendly to us both in the last war and this war. I would greatly appreciate his meeting with the President. He is a great character and a fine man.

I wish you would thank the President for all of us here for his great message to Congress. x11242
