MEMORANDUM

It seems particularly appropriate that in times of stress such as we are now witnessing the Governor should again offer to the Legislature his willingness to cooperate for the good of the State. I do so in the hope that this new Legislature will accept this act as a measure of justice, that in the spirit in which it is

Agriculture

The last two years have placed the State of New York in the lead in remedial legislation for the farmers and rural dwellers. The recently appointed Agricultural Advisory Commission, which has been of such invaluable help, will continue, and will make further recommendations to bring into a more sound relation the country and the city communities. In other words, we have progressed to the point where we
MEMORANDUM

We visualize and formulate a practical, definite, and far-reaching land policy for the State.

Planning to secure the use of land itself has become almost a fore-requisite to the building of arteries of transportation, the development of markets, the diversification of goods, and the many other results.
