Dear Mr. Cartier:

I have a horrible feeling that I never thanked you for your very wonderful Christmas thought of me, and I am ashamed of myself for this long delay in writing to you. However, so much has been happening here in Washington that I have had little or no time for looking after personal correspondence. I hope you will understand.

I just love the pin and shall enjoy wearing it. It has been admired by many people, besides myself.

With my grateful thanks, and every best wish,

Very sincerely yours,

Mr. Pierre C. Cartier,

My dear Mrs. Tully:

It was very kind and considerate of you to make the arrangements for the delivery of the clock to the President, as I am so anxious that it should reach him in perfect working order.

It is my hope that the hands of this clock on the President’s desk, will mark very soon the hour of Victory.

Following your conversation with our Miss Murphy, I hasten to confirm to you that we shall send a messenger to Washington on Monday (December 20th) who, upon his arrival at the station, will, as per your suggestion, telephone and ask you for ways and means of remitting to you the clock.

Believe me to be, with kindest personal regards from Mrs. Cartier and myself,

Yours sincerely,

Mrs. Grace Tully

My dear Mrs. Tully:

The messenger who is bringing to you the clock for the President, has also been instructed to remit to you a little package. I hope that you will accept its contents with my very best wishes for Christmas and the New Year which we all feel will be a glorious one for the Allies.

May I hope that when next in New York you will be so kind as to give us the privilege of your visit, as it is quite some time since we have had the pleasure of seeing you.

With renewed thanks and kind personal regards from Mrs. Cartier and myself, believe me to be, dear Mrs. Tully,

Yours sincerely,

Mrs. Grace Tully.

Dear Miss Tully:

Your extremely kind and courteous letter dated March 31st has been received.

I am so glad to hear that you enjoyed the pin and that it was much admired when you wore it. I feel sure that this has been due in great part to the wearer, but I am glad to have been associated with it.

I do not wish in the least to be indiscreet, but I should greatly appreciate it if one day when you think that the President could spare fifteen minutes to receive me, if you would let me know, by telephone or telegram. It would give me an opportunity to speak to the President about France, which I have not done for a long time, and events have been moving fast since then.

With kindest personal regards, believe me to be, my dear Miss Tully,

Yours sincerely,

Miss Grace G. Tully,

My dear Miss Tully,

It seems but yesterday that my French friend and I had the privilege to be received by you at the White House. We were so happy that day, spending an hour in your company in the atmosphere so congenial to the President.

We had the impression then, that he was close to us.

Dear Mr. Cartier:

It was a great pleasure to have had the opportunity of a visit with you and Mr. Devaux the other day. I enjoyed seeing you both and hope that we shall meet again soon.

I know that you know that I received the bracelet, but I am enclosing here-with the card for your records. Thank you ever so much for your great kindness in putting the safety catch on it, as I was terribly worried about losing it. I shall wear it with much more comfort now. It is really lovely and will give me much pleasure.

With every kind wish to you, Mrs. Cartier and Mr. Devaux.

Very sincerely yours,

I am looking forward to the great privilege of seeing the President later on, and, in fact, I shall be very happy if, when the time comes, I would be allowed to bring with me the president of our French company, Mr. Louis Devaux, who has just arrived from Paris. I have not forgotten your great kindness in helping me to obtain this result.

Mr. Devaux is also president of the Federation of French War Prisoners and has been instructed to perform a mission in Washington. I think that some confidential information which he could give to the President would be of interest to him.

We are leaving for Washington.

Dear Miss Tully:

It was extremely thoughtful of you to write to me as you did last Wednesday. I am so glad that the bracelet goes well with your clip. The chain has been added now to the bracelet, so it is an additional safety. I see that "safety first" is your motto, as it is mine.

Mr. Devaux and I, this evening, and we shall be at the Mayflower Hotel for two days, Tuesday and Wednesday, leaving for New York Wednesday evening. I should be happy to come and present to you my compliments, and to introduce to you my friend, Mr. Devaux, should you be able to spare the time to see us both.

Believe me to be, with kindest regards from Mrs. Cartier and myself, dear Miss Tully,

Yours very sincerely,
