The method of "selective immigration", adopted by the Jewish Agency in allocating Palestine immigration certificates among would-be immigrants, is primarily conditioned by the limited number of certificates available. Ever since 1922, when the Palestine Administration limited the number of non-capitalist Jewish immigrants, the number of applicants was larger than the number of certificates available, thus making necessary some process of selection.

Until the war, this selection was undertaken in accordance with a double criterion: that of physical, occupational, and mental preparedness on the one hand, and that of partisanship on the other. As far as the first criterion was concerned, efforts were being made to give certificates mostly, or only, to such groups as were considered necessary for the development of Palestine and to determine the numbers of immigrants in each group (so many agriculturists, skilled artisans, technicians, physicians, teachers, etc.). Special Hachshara (preparedness) courses were instituted in various parts of Europe where would-be immigrants were trained in the necessary skills, in the knowledge of Hebrew, and in psychological preparation for pioneering work in Palestine, and a large part of the available certificates was allocated to the graduates of such courses. A physical examination was also part of the selection process.

The other criterion was the result of the existence of various groups within European Jewry, each of whom desired to have as many certificates as possible allocated to its adherents. Accordingly, each of the various groups within the World Zionist Organization received the guarantee that a certain proportion of certificates would be allotted to its adherents, provided they were eligible for immigration under the first criterion of selection. Two other organizations outside of the World Zionist Organization, the New Zionists (Revisionists) and Agudas Israel (extreme Orthodox) were also allotted a certain proportion of certificates. It was this second criterion of selection that gave rise to frequent criticisms by various Zionist groups and especially by the two organizations outside of the World Zionist Organization who alleged that adherents of the Poale-Zion (principal labor group within the World Zionist Organization) received an unfairly high proportion of certificates, to the disadvantage of other groups, and that this was done in order to make the Jewish population of Palestine one that would reflect mainly the views of that particular group. From time to time, it was also alleged that certificates were allotted in consideration of financial contributions to groups linked with the Poale-Zion or as a reward for adherence to that group. All these allegations were denied by the Jewish Agency.

The controversy grew when, subsequently, the British Administration limited the over-all Jewish immigration to Palestine, and so-called "capitalists" (persons with £1,000 capital) were also applying for some of the certificates. It again grew in intensity after the occupation of Austria and Czechoslovakia by Germany, when the question arose to what extent the importance of rescuing victims of Nazi persecution should override the usual criteria of selection. The controversy extended to the so-called "illegal" immigration conducted on a large scale in 1938-1940, when the New-Brazilians protested against the maintenance of the "selective" method in the face of the anti-Jewish persecution and embarked on a "non-selective" program of "illegal" immigration. Other groups followed, but since the facilities for even "illegal" immigration were inadequate to accommodate all would-be immigrants, a considerable element of selectivity entered into the "illegal" transports as well.

The controversy over the criteria of selection broke out again in connection with the rescue of Jews from the Balkans in 1944; and the attempts by the representatives of the Orthodox groups, of the New Zionists, and of the BuzIon group to organize rescue transports of their own are partly due to their dissatisfaction with the selection methods of the Palestine Offices of the Jewish Agency in Istanbul and Bucharest.

MEMORANDUM

December 14, 1944.

Mr. Russell of the British Embassy called today to give me some additional information concerning the new allocation of Palestine certificates which we had previously discussed. Russell stated that he had received a dispatch from the Colonial Office which confirmed the information he had previously given me. The following points about which we were in some doubt have now been made clear:

1. No more than 1500 a month can enter Palestine from any place;

2. The British Colonial Office has advised the Jewish Agency of the revocation of the guarantee given on July 12th to the effect that all Jews, whether adults or children, who entered Turkey would be taken on to Palestine;

3. There are in reserve a number of certificates above the 10,300 but the exact number is not clear. There is some indication, which Russell did not understand, that they would be used in large part to take care of Jews from the Iberian Peninsula. Russell also thought that they might be intending to take care of the people from Mauritius. In view of doubts on the point, Russell is asking for a further clarification from the Foreign Office; and

4. The Jews entering Palestine from countries other than those to whom quotas have been allowed, e.g., Hungary and occupied territory, will be deducted from quotas for such countries.

Please deliver following message to Judah Magnes from M. A. Leavitt of American Jewish Joint Distribution Committee:

Our reason for requesting that emigration projects receive prior approval was based solely on our desire to assure safe transportation for emigrants to Palestine; therefore we gladly agree that after you are assured of boats seaworthy and minimal risks involved in voyage you can commit JDC for 80 percent of costs transportation up to 5,000 emigrants. Should however agency be unable to provide remaining 20 percent we prepared to take over entire costs since we unwilling to prevent emigration to Palestine for any certificate holder because of lack of funds. Would ask that you keep us informed of actual commitments made within this authorization. With respect to priorities emigrants we believe since this must remain primary responsibility of Jewish Agency since this represents normal emigration rather than emergency rescue. While we hope Jewish Agency will give priority to children and foreign refugees, Romania JDC cannot impose this as condition. We reiterating contents this cable to Schwaarts.

Enclosures.
Dear Mr. Pehle:

One of the activities of the Vaad Hahatzalah Committee in Istanbul has been the obtention of Palestine entry certificates for Jewish people in Hungary, for which names and addresses had been received from various sources, including lists from the Vaad Hahatzalah Committee in New York. The addresses supplied to the Committee in Istanbul presumably were the best which were known at the time the lists were submitted. Obviously, the delivery of the certificate-confirmations to the beneficiaries in Hungary is dependent upon the possession of correct addresses. Without correct addresses, notification becomes more difficult and the persons so to be benefitted cannot be reached.

In an effort to revise their lists, in order to secure correct addresses, the Vaad Hahatzalah Committee in Istanbul has prepared the enclosed schedules of names and addresses as they now have them, with a view toward obtaining better addresses, if possible, through the Vaad Hahatzalah Committee in New York, which is in touch with the relatives of many of the persons included in the schedules. We are enclosing these lists herein, and if you deem it advisable, will you please turn them over to the Vaad Hahatzalah Emergency Committee in New York for correction and revision.

Sincerely yours,

Herbert Katzki

Dear Sirs:

Annexes 1-5 We join to the present ad 1 - 5 lists of certificates for Hungary, No 15, 21, 32, 35 and 64.

These lists have been given to the representatives of Jewish Agency here, and certificates have been imparted by British authorities to the families contained in the above mentioned lists.

These lists are only copies from original and official ones with the only difference that we succeeded to complete the addresses; official lists specify only as domicile generally Budapest.

Hereto we remark the following:

The official numbers of certificates are composed by a general number and an individual one; the general number is M/438/43. This number is not mentioned in the certificates. The individual number is composed with numbers of the list and his positions. When first certificate-confirmations have been imparted they put the letter "A" instead of number 1 so that list No 1 becomes list "A", list No 2 = "B" a.s.o.

Besides the above mentioned lists we enclose also a list of certificateowners called "Various". This list is composed with names of such certificate possessors whom certificates appear in different lists. In this list we indicated - so far as certificates numbers were known - the respective names simultaneously with number and position of list. Besides numbers and positions of this list, different names have also the letter "S" inside meaning that these certificateowners appear also in the special czechoslovakian list Ne10 from which we are including a copy. With regard that in Slovakia none/representation-Consulate exists we indicated Budapest as general residence for all slovakian certificateowners.

Copies of all these lists have been sent to Swiss Legation of Budapest acting as protecting power as well for british citizens as for certificateowners. Let's hope Swiss Legation received already the whole lists as sent. As mentioned above all the correct addresses could only be completed later on behalf of complementary indications or correspondence from resp. relatives, so that finally Certificate confirmations could be issued from the Jewish Agency and directly sent to their owners. It is now doubtful if all these confirmations could reach their owners on account of troubles resp. interruptions of Post. Therefore we sent simultaneously these lists to Switzerland (Aguda Israel and Hifjes) as well as to Lisbon (Joint and nicia*) because communications from there to Hungary through Switzerland are much easier.

The question of Turkish transit visas for Hungarian certificates is not efficacious for the moment. This question has been regulated according details you surely received in the meantime from Mr. Hirschmann in following manner: A Turkish transit visa is handed to everybody presenting his certificate confirmation (without individual order from Ankara, as before). Such confirmations can be issued by all branches of the Jewish Agency.

Unfortunately last time several addresses changed and it would be recommendable to try to receive further details concerning actual residences of resp. certificate owners from their local relatives. Certain persons appear several times in the lists because the register could not (on account of work surcharge) be rectified.

Remark to list No 64:
This list contains also several names of Hungarian which couldn't be separated. The remarks on the right of the list "n.K." and "Sch" are only for our internal service and don't concern certificates themselves.

Finally we enclose list No 51 submitted by friends who asked us from abroad certificates for the families contained in this list.

With cordially salutations,

yours faithfully

The Secretary of State

2178, November 13, 8 p.m.

FROM KATZKI TO PEHLE WAR REFUGEE BOARD, ANKARA 185

For your confidential information instructions from Jerusalem and from the Istanbul British Passport Control Office have been received by the Jewish Agency representatives in Istanbul that immigration to Palestine for the 6,000 period starting retroactively from October 1, is to be limited to 10,300 persons divided as follows: 5,000 Bulgaria and Rumania; 2,000 France for children; 1,000 Switzerland for children; 200 Belgium mainly for children; 900 Italy; 1,000 Yemen; 200 Turkey mainly for children.

I am informed that the 1,000 persons who passed through Istanbul since official statement from Bulgaria and Rumania preceding to Palestine will be charged against the allotment mentioned above. The instruction further stated specifically that immigration to Palestine must be kept down.
must be kept down to (?) these new instructions radically alter the procedure under which immigration has been taking place from the Balkans during recent months and which has been reported to you. Furthermore they may interfere with rescue from occupied countries which heretofore has been based upon the possession of confirmation of immigration certificates issued by the Jewish Agency Elter.

It is to be noted that the foregoing schedule makes no mention of Jews in Hungary, Slovakia or other areas still under Nazi occupation or control. The Jewish Agency in Istanbul has requested clarification from Jerusalem as to whether the quota limitations apply only to liberated areas thus permitting unlimited rescue immigration from occupied countries to Palestine. Should the response be negative, the entire mechanism for protecting Jews still held in occupied areas by means of Palestine certificates or confirmations will fail as soon as the foregoing facts become known to the Nazis. Specific groups involved would be the 1200 Hungarian Jews in Bergenbelsen and the group of 2,000 in Hungary who have been awaiting exit permits.

You may wish independently to procure further details and clarification from London regarding the new schedules and immigration
November 13, 8 p.m. from Ankara

Schedules and immigration from occupied areas for if Palestine becomes unavailable as a country of immigration it will become urgent to find other possibilities. We shall advise you as soon as we obtain more information.

MEMORANDUM

On November 18 I spoke to Mr. Russell of the British Embassy concerning the revision of the Palestine certificate procedure referred to in Katzki's cable No. 2178 of November 15. I told Russell that we would like to have as clear a picture as possible of the new arrangement. I specifically indicated our interest in knowing the following:

1. Whether the new procedure means that people in occupied countries who now have Palestine certificates will lose them, and whether persons in occupied countries who do not have certificates can obtain them in the future; and

2. How the new procedure affects the refugee movement through Turkey from the Balkans.

Mr. Russell agreed to furnish me with this information but suggested that the best source of information was Nahum Goldman. Russell also indicated quite clearly that in his judgment the British intend to interpret the White Paper limitation very liberally and probably will not stick to the literal limit. Russell stated that all of the confusion arises from the bookkeeping that has been gone through.

Today, Russell called and said that he discussed the matter with Goldman. According to Russell, whose information apparently was entirely obtained from Goldman, the following is the new situation:

1. The old block allocations for enemy occupied countries have been cancelled. This apparently has been done at the insistence of the Zionists who now want to fill up the quota as quickly as possible in order to force the White Paper limitation to an issue. Heretofore, blocks of certificates have been held in reserve for persons who might get out of enemy occupied territory, and certificates were not made available for people not in imminent danger of death. Now quotas are being granted for countries like France and Italy where the people are not in danger. Russell assured me that people still in enemy territory who have certificates will not lose such certificates. He also indicated that people in enemy territory who do not have certificates will be able to apply for and obtain them in the future and that in case such certificates are granted they will be deducted from quotas of non-enemy countries.

2. Russell indicated that as a result of the elimination of the old block allocations, the Turkish Government probably will not permit, as they do at present, all persons who arrive in Turkey to pass through the country. Heretofore, they have known that any such persons arriving could go on to Palestine which is not true under the new arrangement.

I asked Russell whether the 10,000 certificates which have been allocated under the new system are all that remain under the White Paper. Russell said while he is still confused about the bookkeeping, that Goldman had told him that there are an additional 7,000 which remained unallocated.

Russell repeated to me that while the bookkeeping is terribly confusing, he feels sure that the British Government will regard the White Paper limitation as flexible, particularly as regards people who may escape from enemy territory.

The following message under date of October 30 has been received from Katzki:

QUOTE The Jewish Agency Istanbul is in receipt of a telegram via Geneva dated October 25 from the Jewish Agency representative Krausz in Budapest stating that exit permits for the first group of 2,000 Palestine certificate holders in Hungary will be secured. Krausz states that the projected route of travel is through Switzerland and Portugal. He requests the aid of the WNB in obtaining the necessary transit visas. We suggest that you verify Krausz's report with McClelland in Switzerland. Information received in Istanbul concerning the Jews in Hungary is meager and general, but unconfirmed Turkish newspaper reports that evacuation of Hungary may be in contemplation. Future developments may make advisable renewed inquiry at this time regarding possibilities for emigration from Hungary.

According to Jewish Agency the 2,000 certificate holders are still in Budapest and they are in possession of passports. UNQUOTE

The substance of the message has been cabled to Harrison and McClelland with the following instruction:

QUOTE Please verify above information and, if correct, please take take all necessary steps to ensure speedy Swiss action to enable the certificate holders from Hungary to reach Switzerland without delay. You may assure Swiss authorities that this Government will use its best efforts to secure the unimpeded progress of the certificate holders to Palestine. UNQUOTE

Please represent to British authorities the Board’s view that this unexpected chance to rescue some of the doomed Jews in Budapest, if verified, confronting Great Britain and United States with an opportunity that may not be allowed to end in failure by reason of any hesitation or delay on the part of either of our two governments. This Government is determined to spare no effort in interceding with Swiss, French, Spanish, and Portuguese officials in the interest of securing speedy transportation of the certificate holders in accordance with the suggested routing and is prepared to recommend to the Allied military and shipping authorities to make possible their speedy transportation by rail and by boat.

It is earnestly hoped that British authorities will view the situation in an identical light and will take similar steps to make possible the early departure of the certificate holders for Palestine.

Please advise Department and Board of British reaction.

Received: October 26, 2 p.m.

Secretary of State,
Washington

A-51, October 13, 1944, 5 p.m.

Have received confidential information from competent Jewish source that Colonial Office has agreed to admit Jewish immigrants at the rate of 1,500 per month distributed as follows: Bulgaria and Romania, 5,000; Italy, 900; Aden, 1,000; France, 2,000 children; Belgium 200 mostly children. Turkey, 200 mostly children; Switzerland 1,000 children.

Previous commitment to admit all escaping to Turkey has been abrogated and all other commitments, except those for Spain and Portugal are to be met from above allocation. Monthly rate of admissions is subject to revision in January. Remainder of White Paper quota will be reallocated when present allocation nears completion.

If immigrants are brought in from uninvited countries or more than indicated from any included country, other will be decreased correspondingly.

Jewish Agency is pressing for increased monthly rate and for the eligibility of adults from France and Switzerland.

INTER-OFFICE COMMUNICATION

DATE September 14, 1944

TO    Mr. Lesser
FROM   Mr. Akzin

Re: 7/13 of September 11, from London

I believe that the difficulties pointed out in this cable could be met in the following way:

1. The British can invalidate the Palestine certificates held by the 2,100 Jews, taking care immediately to transfer the certificates to other groups of Jews desiring to go there and immediately available.
The largest of such groups are in Rumania, in Yemen, and in Italy.
Jewish and other opinion would only protest against the invalidation of the certificates, if it were to result in loss of absolute number of immigrants. However, as long as a corresponding number of Jews from other countries is permitted to enter Palestine, such invalidation would not encounter any protest.

2. The British could be informed that a temporary refugee camp would be established in the Virgin Islands. If desired, this could be made subject to the condition that a temporary refugee camp for a like number of people be established somewhere in British Imperial territory.
A camp in the Virgin Islands would, for obvious psychological reasons, provocate only an infinitesimal part of that public opposition which might be expected in case of a second Oswego in the continental United States. As to the British camp, if the British have no other place to establish it, they could announce that the refugees would be taken to the island of Mauritius. Place on that island could be found by the very simple device of transporting the Jews now on Mauritius back to Palestine.
It will be recalled that the Mauritius Jews were deported there several years ago by the British who refused to let them stay in Palestine.
