Dear Miss Farago:

The Department of State has referred to me your letter of May 1, 1944, requesting assistance in bringing your sister from Hungary to the United States.

Your appeal for assistance in rescuing your sister from the Nazis meets with the fullest sympathy of the Board. I am sure you will understand, however, that the task of the Board is so great that, of necessity, it cannot deal with problems limited to seeking out and rescuing specific individuals. The Board is directing unstinted efforts to the solution of the problems precipitated by recent developments, and I assure you that everything in its power will be done to rescue and save the victims of enemy oppression who are in imminent danger of death.

I suggest that you may wish to refer your problem to a private organization. There is enclosed a list of some of the organizations which I am advised may be in a position to be of some help to you.

Very truly yours,

(Signed) J. W. Pehle

Your Excellency:
I beseech you to help me
to save my young sister's life!
Ten years ago, I saw her in Budapest, Hungary, when she was four years old. The last time I heard from her was in 1940, which was by letter.
She was residing with my father at the time. The return address on the envelope was:
Mr. Jenö Taragó
Iritz-Körut - 33 (Teréz)
