Dear Mrs. Roosevelt:

I have been thinking of you much and hope your trip to New York and Hyde Park was not too hectic. I have a general idea of the amount of stuff they must have unloaded on you at Hyde Park and I wish I could have been there to help you.

I have been in almost daily touch with Anna and just before I ran up to New York to attend my Aunt's funeral on Monday, I talked with her and the news was very good about Johnny. I do hope he is on the mend, as Anna has really been under great strain and needs a little respite from trouble.

In going over some very old files -- in the last minute clearing up -- I came across the enclosed insurance policy taken out with the Maccabees. Perhaps this should be sent to Jimmy, but as I turned over all the rest to you originally, I wanted you to have this one.

I do hope you have had a little chance to rest, although with so much to do it is hard to believe you have had any time to think about yourself.

We all miss you very much and hope that we shall see you when you come to Washington the first week in May.

With much love,

Affectionately,
