Dear Miss Lettland—

Herewith is a copy of "Guilty" duly inscribed to you. I am also sending one inscribed to the President because I was away on a vacation when the book came out — and so could not send one immediately to him as I intended.
Whatever he does with the copy he has now,
I should like to have him add this small volume to his collection of inscribed books —
as the only one to date at least in which anyone had the audacity to confess his "guilt" for him!

Sincerely yours

Donald Richberg

My dear Miss Rosenberg:-

Thank you so much for the photograph of the Prime Minister. Will you please tell him for me how much I appreciate it. I really am not at all a seeker of photographs or autographs but I fell in love with your Prime Minister immediately and really hated to see him leave.

Mr. Bullitt had told me much of you and I was so sorry you did not come here with the Prime Minister and Miss MacDonald.

I hope some day to have the pleasure of meeting you and, of course, if you come to this country, I do want to see you.

Very sincerely yours,

Miss Rose Rosenberg,
10 Downing Street,
London, England.

Dear Miss Le Hann,

I enclose two autographed photographs of the Prime Minister. One is for yourself and the other for Mr. Howe, which would you be good enough to hand to him.

I was hoping to have the pleasure of meeting you as I had heard so much of you from Mr. Bullitt, but unfortunately it could not be managed this trip. If ever you come to London I hope you will make a point of getting in touch with me.

With kindest regards,

I am,

Yours very sincerely,

Rose Rosenberg.

Dear Miss LeHand,

I have always remembered with pleasure the delightful little visit we had together in Paris, and have expected that I would be coming to Washington long before this when I contemplated getting in touch with you in the hope of arranging another meeting.

Now, I am coming to Washington on a flying visit for just one day, Saturday, October 28th, and I am wondering if there will be an opportunity to say "hello" to you.

I should be delighted if you could have luncheon with me, or if we can meet for cocktails or for a few minutes during the course of the afternoon.

I will stop at the Mayflower Hotel, and if you will have any free time at all on that day (my mission will only occupy the morning) I should greatly appreciate if you would drop me a few lines at the hotel.

With sincere good wishes,

Cordially,

Helena Rubinstein

My dear Miss Lehand:

This letter is to give you and the Tully Sisters notice that I am coming to Washington definitely on Wednesday morning.

In the evening I will dine with plenty of "New Dealers" and to make my trip 100% pleasant, I hope that you three girls will give me the pleasure of having luncheon with me on Wednesday. Besides myself, there will be another comedian at the luncheon. He is very well known on Broadway and you know the famous Eddie Dowling. Immediately I arrive I will get in contact with you by telephone.

With kind regards and best wishes, I remain,

Yours most sincerely,

Boris Said

Dear Mr. Secretary:

Thank you ever so much

attractive and we have had requests from a number of people who have seen them on us here at the White House.

I appreciate your thought in sending them.

With best wishes,

Very sincerely yours,

Dear Missy:-

You mysterious woman! How do you "keep track" of me? Anyway, it isn't effective enough to cause you to make an ocular inspection when you come over here. Try that the next time, to see how your secret service works.

Warm regard.

Faithfully,

Miss Marguerite LeHand,
